Export location

Date and time of export (or when property is expected to arrive in the foreign country)

I, the purchaser, have provided the following information and documentation required by law: passport, laser visa identification card, or foreign voter registration picture identification indicating foreign residency; purchaser identification number, if issued to me; produced the property and the original receipt for the property; the name and address of the place at which the property was purchased; the sales price and quantity of the property; description of the property; tax paid on the property; date and time the property was purchased, the foreign country destination of the property (must be the foreign country in which the purchaser resides); location where the export will occur; and date and time the property is expected to arrive in the foreign country.

I understand that tangible personal property not exported is subject to taxation under this chapter and the purchaser is liable, in addition to other possible civil liabilities and criminal penalties, for payment of an amount equal to the value of the merchandise if the purchaser improperly obtained a refund of taxes. I further understand that tangible personal property that has previously been worn or otherwise used in Texas prior to export is also subject to taxation, and the purchaser is liable in the same manner as above.

I understand that providing false information to a Customs Broker is a Class B misdemeanor.
